

Home Alone? Homework Headaches? Afterschool Can Help

Afterschool is a program designed for working parents, or students who may need help with their homework. It runs from immediately after school until 5:30 and is open to kindergarten through 8th grade students. Kids get a snack upon arrival, help with homework, physical activity, social interaction, and educational enrichment. When picked up at 5:30, your child is ready to spend quality time at home with the family.

Cost of the program is $35 per week. Financial assistance is available from the Missouri Division of Social Services. Interested parents should contact the Division of Family Services offices in Union for Franklin County residents, and Steelville for Crawford County residents to see if they qualify for assistance.
